Mark Twain bought a house in Tarrytown, N. J., some time ago for $45,000, and to convince him that he got a good bargain the tax assessors valued it at $70,000. Mark isn't inclined to tarry there long, and would like to sell thatshack now for about $40,000.

The Philadelphia Press rises to remark that "President Roosevelt's speeches have paralyzed the Democratic hunt for campaign issues." Before he left Oyster Bay the President wanted it distinctly understood that there wouldn't be any politics in his speeches. Of course not.

"Moonshining" must be an appetizing business in Kentucky. The still hunters went on a hunt recently and captured a female shiner, who was so large in circumference that the court house doors were too small to pass her and she had to be tried out in the yard. She was several yards around the waist, or the section where the feminine waist usually is.

Nobody in Florida seems to know just how many Seminoles there still are in that State. The Sems are very still at present, so still that no census taker has ever been able to find many of them, and as they suspect the white folks who want to number them, of some sinister purpose, they won't give any figures. The estimates run all the way from 200 to 600. But there are enough for all practical purposes.

A Virginia contemporary commenting upon the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of that negro fiend in Wayne county who was shot to death for the usual crime, remarks that if that is the sentiment of the people of this State lynching ought to be legalized. Perhaps that wouldn't be a bad idea. The Boers took that view of it, when they made it lawful to shoot a raper on sight, and found it worked pretty well.

A writer in one of the magazines kindly informs people on the places to keep away from when the lightning is sporting around. With the bolts frisking about as they have been doing for some time, it isn't so much where not to go as where to go that people are interested in. When the lightning goes into one's house and hunts a fellow up in bed to hit him, as it did in one of our upland counties a few weeks ago, about the only safe place would seem to be down in a well or some other hole in the ground.

After Negro Crap Shooters.

The police are straight behind the crap shooters. Saturday Joe Hill and Governor Mosely, colored, were arrested at Second and Brunswick streets, charged with engaging in their favorite diversion. Hill was given 30 days on the roads and Moseley couldn't pay a fine of $5 and also went to the rock crushing plant for 15 days. Elias H. Hargett and Elias Smith, also colored, were caught in a "little game" on MacRae street Sunday and they gave bond for trial in the Mayor's Court next Thursday. Yesterday the police succeeded in corralling the following additional "shooters:" John Keal, Gealy James J. Nick Bird and Galloway Moore. The Smith negro will have to answer the additional charge of assaulting Policeman Frank George, when the officer first attempted to arrest him.

LOCAL DOTS.

— The Autumn girl stepped gracefully to the front yesterday. Her name was "Legion," and she was "here, there and everywhere." The Autumn girl is even more fascinating than the Summer girl.

— Mr. W. R. Summerson, of Charlotte, arrived in the city yesterday to accept the general management of the Council's Self-Lubricating Axles, manufactured by the B. F. Keith Co., at Dunkirk, N. Y. The "Couacil" is conceded to be the coming axle on the market.

— Geo. Ellerby, colored, yesterday gave bond in the sum of $50 in each of two cases against him for assault with a deadly weapon upon Bud Sterling and carrying concealed weapons. Sterling was fined $10 for an assault upon Ellerby, which provoked the latter to shoot.

AFFAIRS OF COUNTY.

Regular Monthly Meeting of the Board of Commissioners Held Yesterday Afternoon.

MUCH ROUTINE BUSINESS.

Several Offers to Sell Bloodhounds, But Commissioners Took No Notice of Same--Greenville Citizens Want Public Road—Tax Books.

The Board of County Commissioners held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon, Chairman D. McEachern and all members having been present, viz: Messrs. F. A. Montgomery, Gabriel Holmes, W. F. Alexander and H. L. Vollers.

A. Millis was allowed to list land in Cape Fear township without liability to double tax, provided the tax is paid during the current two weeks.

Messrs. M. S. Willard, C. W. Worth, James and Frank Canady, residents of Greenville Sound, appeared before the Board and requested the laying-out of a public road leading from the turnpike near the Martin place to Lietgen's landing. The matter was continued in the hands of the committee.

Thos. J. Ashley, white, of Wilmington township, was relieved of poll tax on account of physical disability.

The action of the chairman and a majority of the Board in appointing L. D. Cherry to survey certain lands for O. M. Fillyaw and W. M. Cherry in Cape Fear township, was approved. Mr Cherry was also appointed to survey lands of S. E. Carter in the same township.

The reports of the Register of Deeds, Clerk of the Superior Court and Superintendent of Health were received and approved. That of the health superintendent shows that during August 194 patients were treated in the office and 40 visits were made to 33 patients at their homes. The county institutions were reported in good sanitary condition with no acute sickness in the home or in the jail, and only a few cases of chills and fever in the convict camp. A few cases of typhoid fever are reported.

The tax assessment on property of Mrs. Rebecca Sternberger on Wrightsville beach was reduced from $250 to $100.

It appearing that the tax on property of John G. Daniel in Blocks 307 and 312, sold by S. H. Manning, sheriff, for non payment of taxes in 1890, had been paid, as evidenced by receipt for same, dated Sept. 17th, 1890, it was ordered that the tax deed be cancelled and the property restored to its proper owner.

The action of the permanent road commissioner in furnishing the city of Goldsboro not exceeding five car loads of road material from the Castle Haynes quarry at $1.50 a ton, was approved. The Goldsboro authorities desire the material to repair certain streets built of the same material, when the quarry was under State control.

The application of Mrs. Bertha Justice in reference to the admission of her child into the Deaf and Dumb Institution was referred to the Finance Committee with power to act.

The substitution of the name of Mr. Matt J. Heyer for that of Mr. J. W. Norwood on the bond of County Treasurer H. McL. Green was approved.

County Attorney W. B. McKoy was allowed $75 for professional services in the county road bond litigation.

Sophia McKenzie, colored, of Harnett township, was allowed $1 per month and her name was placed on the out-door poor list.

Offers from several desiring to sell bloodhounds were read, but the Commissioners took nor proposed any action. One of them was an offer from "Hurricane" Branch to sell two thoroughbred pups sired by "Tiger," the famous man trailer used in the Cropsey case.

After drawing the list of jurors for the October term of the Superior Court as published in another column, an adjournment was taken until Thursday, when the tax books will be received from the compilers and turned over to the sheriff for collection. The compilation is complete, but the sheets are now being bound and will not be ready until later in the week.

Police Statistics.

August was a busy month with the police. The report of Chief Furlong, submitted to the Board of Aldermen last night, shows that during that period 119 arrests were made, 35 of the offenders having been white and 84 colored persons. Twenty-eight were sent to the county roads for terms aggregating 670 days and five were held for the higher court—one for burglary. August is usually a dull month in all lines, but the number of arrests indicates that the police put forth special effort.

Steamer Rosewood in Port.

The British steamer Rosewood, 1104 tons, Capt. McGregor, arrived yesterday from Villa Real, consigned to Messrs. Heide & Co., with a cargo of pyrites for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. After discharging at the factory up the river, the Rosewood, will receive a cargo of cotton from Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son at the Champion Compress. The British steamer Torgorm also arrived up yesterday from quarantine and will receive a cargo of gum timber for the Acme Tea Chest Co.

LABOR DAY OBSERVANCE BY WILMINGTON PEOPLE.

Local Carpenters and Joiners and Those of Southport Made Delightful Occasion of It—Annual Oration.

Labor Day 1902 will perhaps go down in the annals of Wilmington as having been more generally and appropriately celebrated yesterday than ever before. The more elaborate observance was by the laboring people themselves and as the holiday was especially set apart in their honor, it is nothing but mete and proper that they should have made the most of it.

In the celebration in Wilmington yesterday, however, all citizens joined the workingmen in the spirit of the hour and were glad to see them have a day of recreation and patriotic observance.

About 150 members of Southport Union, Carpenters and Joiners of America, their families and friends came up on a special trip of the steamer Wilmington at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning, accompanied by the Post band of Fort Caswell. They were met at the wharf by a deputation of prominent members of Local Union No. 899, of this city, and escorted to local headquarters in the MacRae building, where a cordial address of welcome was delivered in pleasing manner by Mr. J. E. Smith. The exercises at the Hall having been completed, the two unions formed in line, and, after a short parade, headed by the band, the party left on the cars for Wrightsville beach, where the chief events of the day took place.

One of the notable features was the annual address by the Rev. R. B John, presiding elder of the Wilmington District, M. E. Church. Rev. Mr. John spoke in the pavilion at the beach and was introduced by President Gordon, of the local Union. Mr. John began his highly entertaining address by saying this is the best age the world has ever seen. It appreciates the man more than ever for what he is doing. He cited the progress in surgery as an instance, referring back to the time not long ago when operations were performed by the ordinary barbers of the day. Gradually the profession advanced until now it is at the head of all professions. So it is with all forms of manual labor, for the happiness and comfort of mankind has made them all honorable callings. The study of social questions has given dignity to all kinds of labor. It is from the ranks of the sons of toil that all great men have sprung. To-day it is the sons of the rich that are to be pitied rather than the sons of the poor.

Rev. Mr. John quoted from President G. Stanley Hall, at the head of an eminent New England college, who said that there is no strong character unless there is a strong will and there can be no strong will without a vigorous muscle. The fact is well recognized now throughout the world and it has become so that no edcation is complete without industrial training.

Mr. John's remarks were listened to with great pleasure and profit. The address was followed by a sumptous dinner at the hotels on the beach and the afternoon was given over to athletic sports of a lively nature. It was late in the afternoon when the carpenters and friends returned to their homes, all voting the day one well spent and enjoyable in every particular.

In the city the day was marked by the closing of the banks, Custom House and Produce Exchange and several departments of the Atlantic Coast Line. The holiday was well kept, and it is right and proper that it should have been.

SEASON'S COTTON RECEIPTS AS POSTED YESTERDAY.

Years.	Receipts.
1900-01	258,561
1899-00	282,360
1898-99	291,365
1897-98	323,273
1896-97	234,664
1895-96	176,447
1894-95	234,631
1893-94	189,840
1892-93	160,098
1891-92	161,510
1890-91	189,325
1889-90	134,916

The grand total exports for the past year were 269,652 bales against only 259,495 on the year previous. The domestic exports were only 7,846 bales against 35,359 in 1901, but what was lost in coastwise shipments was made up in foreign exports, the figures being 261,806 bales and 225,136 bales, the difference being in favor of the year just ended.

The monthly statement of cotton and naval stores for August is printed in the commercial columns of the STAR to-day.

— Mr. Charles A. Price left yesterday morning to spend a few months at Washington, N. C.

MANY MINOR THINGS.

SEVERAL WARM DEBATES.

Reports from All Committees and Departments Were Without Special Features—Hot Fight Over Liquor License Application.

An avalanche of routine and unimportant matters was tediously cleared from the Aldermanic docket at last night's regular monthly meeting of the Board, upon which there were in attendance Mayor Waddell, presiding, and Messrs. Z. E. Murrell, W. C. VonGlahn, J. H. Sweeney, E. F. Johnson, W. B. Cooper, F. E. Hashagen, E. P. Bailey, M. G. Tienken and W. E. Mann. Before the meeting was over Mr. Bailey was excused. Mr. Spencer was the only member absent.

Committee reports were first called, and under the head of "Finance" Mr. Hashagen reported the tax books for the current year would be ready to go into the hands of the City Clerk and Treasurer on Wednesday.

Mr. Cooper, chairman of the Fire Committee, asked that the Board authorize $60 out of the regular appropriation to defray the expenses of Chief Schnibben to the International Convention of Fire Chiefs, to be held in New York in October. Mr. Mann strenuously objected to the appropriation, but said he would be willing to allow the Chief his time to attend the convention. The appropriation was allowed.

Upon recommendation of the committee, J. H. Litgen and S. W. Ketcham were elected firemen to succeed J. C. Bowden and W. H. Merritt, resigned.

Mr. Mann reported that the Consolidated Railways, Light & Power Co. was at work installing the enclosed arc light system and that the other lights were in very satisfactory condition. Mr. Hashagen, as a member of the committee, took exception to the latter clause of the report and said some of the lights were very poor.

Upon motion of Mr. Johnson, $66.50 was appropriated for the maintenance of a light the remainder of the fiscal year at Third and Harnett streets. A similar motion by Mr. Tienken for a light at Fourth and Castle streets was also carried.

The report of the Committee on Markets precipitated a discussion as to the granting of a license to J. F. Garrell & Co. to conduct a meat market at Fourth and Nun streets. Mr. Marsden Bellamy, counsel for Mr. Garrell, was present and urged the granting of the license. He presented a petition from several citizens in the neighborhood in support of his contention that the application should be granted. Mr. Hashagen presented a counter petition and Mr. Bailey called attention to the fact that the opening of these outside markets had a tendency to depreciate the renting value of the city markets. It was finally decided by the Board to grant the license. The vote was 6 to 2, Mr. Mann not voting.

Mr. Sweeney, of the Ordinance Committee, said that he would look into the matter of a proper ordinance regulating the storing of gasolene in the city, as requested at the last meeting.

Mr. VonGlahn, for the Police Committee, reported the installation of the police telephone alarm system, provided for in the late budget. Under this head, Mr. Johnson called attention to the great used of bloodhounds for trailing criminals, and upon his motion the chairman of the Police Committee was requested to investigate the purchase of dogs.

Mr. Murrell, of the Public Building Committee, outlined the repairs going on in the Opera House and said the matter of the city's ice supply was still a stumbling block. At this juncture Mr. Hashagen arose and said he thought the matter had been referred to the Finance Committe, of which he was chairman, and that only the Independent Ice Company would submit a bid and that was 25 cents per hundred, delivered in any quantity and any where. Mr. Murrell said the Public Building Committee was glad to be relieved, and upon motion the contract was ordered to be made with the Independent Co.

Upon motion of Mr. Tienken it was resolved that the Board adhere to its former action in regard to establishing a water hydrant at Sixth and Castle streets and not at Sixth and Church as proposed by the Board of Audit and Finance. It was explained that one of the chief desires in having the hydrant located at Sixth and Castle was to furnish water for the engine station on that corner. Later in the meeting, the Board agreed to appropriate $387 for extending the main to that point, that amount being the bid of the Clarendon Water Works for extending the main. It was further explained that the water rental of $50 per year for 9 years would not have to be paid, according to the city's water contract.

Mr. Johnson, of the Streets and Wharves Committee, made a very exhaustive report of the work being done in that department. It was shown that 1,912 tons of rock had been used for macadam and repair purposes during the month and that the Red Cross improvement was about two-thirds complete. He recited the incidents leading up to his demolition of the "free ice signs" at the public fountain at Front and Market streets some time ago and said that since that time he had furnished ice for the fountain under contract with the Independent Ice Co. He also reported the purchase of two mules from Mr. F. T. Mills at a cost of $375, and a cart from Mr. P. H. Hayden.

Mr. Tienken called attention to a cesspool at Fourth and Wooster streets, which Mr. Johnson said would receive attention.

Mr. Sweeney called attention to the need of the permanent improvement of the northern end of Second street, south of the railroad, along which there are a number of fine residences and an abominable street. He asked that work next be commenced on that. That let down the gap for a perfect fusillade of requests for street improvement by the several Aldermen for their respective wards and Mr. Johnson, chairman of the committee, cried out for no instructions if possible; the committee would do the best it could and might be hampered in its work by instructions. Mr. Johnson said he thought the most urgent need upon the completion of the Red Cross improvement was on Chesnut, between Seventh and Tenth streets, where grading had been done, and the city was in danger of damage suits by washing rains.

No instructions were given, and Mr. Johnson later asked to supplement his report by saying that lately an expert paver had come from Columbia, S. C., and was laying some splendid concrete sidewalks down town, notably in front of J. W. Murchison & Co.'s store and the Atlantic National Bank. As chairman of the committee he said he had agreed for the city to pay part of the expense inasmuch as the sidewalks in that section had already gone to pieces. The work was costing 90 cents a square foot.

Mr. Mann said he was a member of the Streets and Wharves Committee, and that was the first he had heard of any agreement for the city to pay a part of the cost. He was opposed to it, and said he thought he could express a similar sentiment for his colleague, Mr. Bailey, also a member of the committee, who had retired previous to the report.

Mr. VonGlahn said he had never heard of such a proposition or precedent as Mr. Johnson had claimed for the idea. The city did have a general understanding that it would lay brick sidewalks when citizens furnished all material, but as for the city's paying a part for a sidewalk around private premises he had never heard of it. The Mayor also said that Mr. VonGlahn's idea was his understanding of the standing agreement.

Mr. Johnson said he thought the laying, grading, curbing, etc., was about one half the cost of a sidewalk and he would recommend the payment by the city of that proportion for the concrete work.

The recommendation brought forth a perfect storm of disapproval and Mr. Johnson withdrew his recommendation, expressing the hope that something might be done by which the city could get a good long stretch of this concrete sidewalk. In Columbia, the city laid at its own expense about four miles of such sidewalk.

The reports of committees having been exhausted, reports from other departments were called for. The Superintendent of Health, Dr. C. T. Harper, reported that during the month 42 deaths had occurred, 14 white persons and 28 colored; 52 births, 19 white, 33 colored. One case of scarlet and 7 of typhoid fever occurred during the month; 3,310 inspections were made by the health officers; 732 lime and acid orders issued; 5 fumigations made; 1,120 cart loads of garbage removed; 1,518 premises attended by scavengers.

The chief of the Fire Department reported four alarms during the month and a total damage of not more than $50.

The cattle weigher reported 250 head of cattle weighed and inspected and the payment into the treasury of $37.50 revenue therefrom.

The City Attorney reported the collection of $446.09 back taxes since last report.

The Local Board of Fire Underwriters reported an infraction of the building ordinance by the erection of a frame, composition roof structure near the yards of the Coal, Cement and Supply Co. The matter was referred to the Fire Commission, composed of the Mayor and Chiefs of Fire and Police departments.

Two propositions from John H. Whiteman to lease for ten years the city wharf back of Front street market house, at a rental of $100 per year, were not granted.

There was a warm fight over the granting of a liquor license to Elijah Walton at Tenth and Grace streets. Petitions pro and con were presented and the relative merits of the two afforded a subject of rapid fire discussion. Mr. Johnson led the movement against granting and Messrs. Mann and Hashagen for granting. A. J. Marshall, Esq., appeared as counsel for Mr. Walton, and a vote resulted in a tie. The Mayor cast the deciding vote in favor of granting the license to Mr. Walton. Those against granting were Messrs. VonGlahn, Johnson, Cooper and Murrell.

Mr. Thomas J. Gore presented a proposition to the city endorsed by property owners in the vicinity, asking that he be allowed to convert the Dock street dock into a wharf; extend the sewer pipe under the same further into the river, and erect a substantial building thereon, he to have the occupancy of same for ten years for his outlay in the improvement. Mr. A. J. Marshall also appeared as counsel in this matter and it was referred to the Streets and Wharves Committee for report.

The application of J. D. Dennis to retail liquor at Fourth and Taylor streets was allowed, Mr. Murrell having withdrawn his objection,

THE CAPTAINS OF INDUSTRY

After giving his views pretty freely in some of his New England speeches on the trust question, Mr. Roosevelt seems to have conceived the thought that some of the corporations which do not come under the class of trusts may have concluded that he didn't sufficiently elucidate that there are corporations which are good things, as there are corporations—trusts—which are bad things, and, therefore, at Concord, N. H., he gave "the captains of industry" a boost in the following, as we find it reported in the New York Herald:

"It is not necessary to say to an audience in this State, where you have great industrial centres, the building up of which has added to the wealth of the whole State, that the farmer is benefited by the success of the manufacturing center, just as the manufacturing center must in the last resort depend upon the welfare of the country for its success. The farmer is benefited as the manufacturer is benefited—we all share alike in the upward movement.

"Whenever there is a period of prosperity it will benefit all. It benefits unequally, but it gives some benefit all around. When a period of adversity comes harm falls to all; the harm is unequal, but some harm comes to all.

"Now the great problem that we should set before us is to keep prosperity, to render its advantages less unequal, to try to secure a greater equality of its benefits, but above all, never, under any circumstances, to lend ourselves to the leadership of any who appeal to the baser passions of mankind.

"Your great manufacturing centers are built because of the capital that has come here mainly in corporate form. If you had never had the big captains of industry, who worked as individuals or who worked in combination as corporations, you would never have had that prosperity—you would not have had the material upbuilding in this community.

"Evils have come through our very prosperity, but in warring against the evil let us be exceeding careful not to war against the prosperity.

"It would be perfectly possible at any time to make it unpleasant for the trusts—perfectly possible to prevent big corporations from making money.

"Let us face the fact that there are evils. It is foolish to blink at those evils. Let us set ourselves, but temperately and with sanity, to strive to find out what the evils are and to remedy them. If any man tells you that he can advance a specific by which all the evils of the body politic will be made to disappear, distrust him, for, if he is honest he knows not what he says.

"Shame to us if we blink at the evils. They are there, and to say they are not there will not disprove their presence. Face the problem, realize its gravity and then approach it in a spirit of hearty desire to solve it with justice to all, with malace to none; to solve it in a spirit of broad kindliness and charity; in a spirit that will keep us ever in mind that if we are to succeed at all it must be by each doing to the best of his capacity his own business, and yet by each remembering that in a sense he is also his brother's keeper."

This may relieve the "captains of industry" of any immpression they may have gotton that Mr. Roosevelt had them in his eye when he was urging the necessity of more ample power to grapple with and down the trusts, and if so, it has doubtless accomplished its purpose; but in our opinion it was entirely unnecessary to enlighten the intelligent portion of the people whom he was addressing, and when he was addressing them he was addressing the people of the United States, through the press, which publishes his speeches. When he told them that organized capital helped to build up cities and brought prosperity to them and to nearly every one, to some more, to some less, he stated a fact that any one with a thimbleful of brains knows, and when he stated that such organizations should be looked upon and treated as friends and not enemies he stated another fact, which every community recognizes. There is no hostility to organized capital which pursues its business in a legitimate and honest way. There is no fight against that kind of organization. We have that kind of organization everywhere, in hamlet, town and city, and in various proportions, small and large, in proportion to the field they occupy or aim to occupy. That kind of organization is as old as business, and has existed from the first day that two men put their money together in partnership, or two or more put their money together to establish some manufacturing or other enterprise that required more money than any one of them had. Everybody understands that, and there are very few people who have the capacity and take time to think who do not know the difference between that kind of organization and what are commonly called trusts.

Relying upon technicalities the friends of the trusts denied that there are any trusts, because originally they provided for trustees—hence the name—but afterwards the trustees were dispensed with as a useless appendage, and hence basing the assertion on a quibble, it was denied that there were any trusts. They have ceased that, however, and those who a short while ago denied the existence of trusts now admitted that there are trusts, and trusts, too, that should be curbed by law.

We do not believe there is an intelligent person between the two oceans who has taken any interest in this question who could not give a definition of a trust and one correct enough for all practical purposes. They would say it is a combination organized for the purpose of ultimately, and as soon as possible, securing a monopoly in the United States of the articles in which it dealt or proposed to deal, and having a monopoly to make its own prices for which it sells, for the raw materials it uses, and for the wages it pays the people whom it employs. The organization that does that is, in the estimation of the people, a trust, whatever it may choose to call itself. These trusts are not content with reasonable profit on their business, but plan to pay large dividends on their real capital and also on a lot of fictitious capital, and to do that they make extortionate prices, which, having choked off or bought off home competition and being protected from foreign competition by the protective tariff, the monopoly they have enables them to do.

That's the kind of thing the people object to, and that's the kind of thing they want suppressed. What they want is fair trade based on competition, and when a combination destroys competition, by either absorbing the competing plants or by destroying them, and then levies such tribute as it sees fit upon the people, the people believe such a combination places itself beyond the pale of law or justification, and should be dealt with as a public menace and enemy.

Mr. Roosevelt understands this fully, understood it when paying tribute to "the captains of industry." He knows what a trust is; he knows the people know, and he knows that it would not require a very astute lawyer to single out a trust and, waving legal technicalities, but basing argument on fact, prove it to be a trust. They proclaim and convict themselves by their methods.

MUM ON THE TRUSTS.

When Senator Pritchard and his assistants constructed the platform adopted by their convention at Greensboro they were totally oblivious of the fact that there are any such things as trusts in this country, or that they are attracting any attention. This is the more remarkable in view of the way they figured in the New England speeches of President Roosevelt, and his pleas for more powef for the Federal Government to enable it to more effectually handle and curb them.

The Republican conventions of a number of States have discovered that there are trusts and have demanded in very emphatic language that they be regulated and restrained and prevented from robbing the people, but Mr. Pritchard failed to discover that and hence his platform is as silent as the grave on this question, which is now more widely and warmly discussed than any other question before the American people, because it is the one in which they are the most immediately and vitally interested.

Nor is there any reference to or expression in favor of tariff revision, which has also been demanded by a number of Republican conventions, but on the contrary a pronouncement in favor of protection as the policy which has brought prosperity to the country, and therefore a very good thing to let alone.

These two facts leave no room to doubt where the men who built that platform stand on trusts and tariff revision, and little doubt, also, as to where Senator Pritchard would stand on these two vital questions if returned to the Senate, or where the Legislature would stand on remedial legislation, if the Republicans get control of it.

The Unhappy Burden Bearer Must Make Choice.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Takes Away the Load of Disease, and Leads to New Life, Health, and Happiness.

The unhappy victim of disease and suffering who has just dragged through the summer, and who is now racked with suffering and almost a physical wreck, must make immediate choice of two paths. One leads to increased miseries and certain death, the other to new life, health, and happiness.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound is a necessity for all who seek the path of health and long years. Victims of rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver trouble, dyspepsia, nervousness, and blood diseases quickly and surely find new life, vigor, and strength in Dr. Phelps' medical prescription—Paine's Celery Compound. It builds up the system, purifies the blood, braces the nerves, and regulates digestion as no other medicine can do. Mr. John C. Rowan, 137 E. Winifred St., St. Paul, Minn., says:—

"Some six years ago I suffered with rheumatism in my knees so painful I could get no relief, and I had to rub them for a moment's ease. Paine's Celery Compound cured me and eradicated the disease from my system. I had also been afflicted with kidney disease as most railroad men are, and I had catarrh so bad that my head ached and my eyes were inflamed with continual pain, and I could retain nothing but liquid food on my stomach. To-day, thanks to Paine's Celery Compound, I think I am as healthy as any man that stands on the globe."

ROBUST LIARS.

If a negro commits burglary, larceny, arson, rape, murder or any other crime in the North, and is caught, they lock him up in jail and there isn't any sympathy wasted on him, but if he commits any of these crimes in the South and escapes to the North and especially if he seeks refuge in a New England State, he becomes a sort of semi-hero or martyr or something of that sort, and white and black idiots throw their arms around him and embrace him as a brother.

Some time ago Monroe Rogers, a Durham negro, charged with arson, fled the State, and when heard from was in the town of Brockton, Mass., where he was arrested. Requisition papers were issued by Governor Aycock and an officer sent on to bring Monroe back to this State for trial, the presumption being that the Governor of Massachusetts would honor the requisition, which he declined to do. There was much pressure brought to bear to prevent him from surrendering this negro incendiary, and all sorts of misrepresentation and lying was resorted to, of which the following from the Boston Herald (sent us all the way from San Francisco, California, by an indignant Southerner) is a fair sample:

Friends of Monroe Rogers, the negro of North Carolina, are working hard to put off his trial, called at the State House yesterday to try to persuade Atty.-Gen. Parker and his assistant, Frederick B. Greenhalge, that it would be an injustice to turn Rogers over to Gov. Aycock of North Carolina. They declared Rogers would be in imminent danger of lynching. Col. Norman P. Hallowell, who led a Massachusetts regiment in the civil war and has been president of the National Bank of Commerce for many years, declared that in the South 99 out of every 100 white men would not hesitate to lynch a negro on almost any pretence. The Rev. W. H. Scott, pastor of St. John's Baptist church, Woburn, said there had been 100 lynchings in Wilmington, N. C., alone. Clement G. Morgan, the young colored lawyer of Cambridge, and Butler R. Wilson, another negro lawyer, were counsel for Rogers.

The cool-headed slanderer will so frame his slander as to give it at least the semblance of probability, but when he makes his assertion so broad as to stagger credulity he simply discredits himself. Col. Hallowell is a white man who has never lived in North Carolina, or in the South, and therefore knows nothing about it or its people, except what he reads or hears or learns from the negroes with whom he seems to fraternize. His opinion is therefore discredited by his ignorance, which disqualifies him as a witness against the white people of North Carolina.

The negro preacher Scott discredits himself totally by his broadcast lying, when he asserts that there have been 100 lynchings in the city of Wilmington alone." As a matter of fact, there never has been a lynching in the city of Wilmington; as another matter of fact, there haven't been "100 lynchings in North Carolina in a hundred years; as another matter of fact, there haven't been a half dozen lynchings n North Carolina since the war, and, as another matter of fact, there have been as few if not fewer lynchings in North Carolina than in any other Southern State, all of which is conclusive proof that the negro preacher Scott is a robust and unscrupulous liar.

But we have become so accustomed to this kind of misrepresentation, that, although it provokes, it does not worry us as it does our San Francisco friend. We don't expect anything else from the negro fraternizers of that quarter. They haven't got their wisdom teeth cut yet, but they will after awhile, when Massachusetts becomes the refuge of negro criminals, which the negro criminal sympathizers are working to make it.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Greenville Reflector: Friday morning about two o'clock O. L. Joyner lost a tobacco barn full of tobacco, on his place near Greenville. Mr. Joyner said it was the finest barn of tobacco he had and was a barn of picked wrappers. The loss is about $250.

— Kinston Free Press: There was $29,000 in cold cash paid out for tobacco on this market Friday. —— James Neuman, on the Margaret Croom place in Trent township, found two watermelons in his patch a few days ago that did not have a seed in them. They were red meat and very sweet.

— Fayetteville Observer: The sale of the Fayetteville Cotton Mills to H. W. Lilly, trustee for bondholders, was confirmed Saturday by Judge Allen, who is presiding at this term of the Superior Court. There will shortly be a meeting of the bondholders to decide what disposition to make of the property.

— Tarboro Southerner: Jim Veney and another colored man broke into the store of S. Robbins at Rocky Mount, and stole a box of clothing. They divided the plunder Jim remaining in Rocky Mount and the other fellow going to Wilmington. Jim was caught Friday and he made a complete confession. The officers are after his pal and expect to catch him. The lothing stolen was worth $70.

— Salisbury Sun: Will Cowan, colored, was captured by Deputy Sheriff Hodge Krider, after being a fugitive from justice for more than three years. Cowan was charged in February, 1899, with committing a criminal assault on a young woman in the Mt. Ulla vicinity. He could not be located, however, and was a fugitive until yesterday, when Deputy Krider saw him near the freight depot and promply placed him under arrest.

— Wilson Times: Mrs. Charlotte Sanderson, of Fayetteville, was arrested this week on Mr. Seth Scott's place in Cross Roads Township by Justice of the Peace N. L. Lucas and is now in the Wilson county jail for leaving her home and husband and taking their six children with her, the oldest 14 years of age, to elope wit ginger cake negro by the name of C. A P. Overby. They left about July 1st, he coming with her on the train as far as Kenly where it is supposed that he became frightened and left her. She left the train at Lucama and hired herself and children to Mr. Scott. Her husband is an employe of a cotton factory in Fayetteville. Her whereabouts were discovered by a letter written to a negro woman in Fayetteville, asking her to ship Mrs. Sanderson's goods to Lucama. The woman is fairly good looking, but illiterate. Deputy R. M. Sikes took the woman and children back to Fayetteville last night. He says Sanderson is an industrious, respectable man. He will get a divorce.

— Durham Herald: Sergeant W. G. Crabtree left Friday morning for Brockton in order to get Monroe Rogers, who is wanted on the charge of arson. Unless there is some unforeseen trouble he and the prisoner will reach here some time the first of next week. Chief Woodall received a telegram telling him to send an officer at once and adding that the writ of habeas corpus had not been served at that time. It was expected, however. If Officer Crabtree reaches there in time to get the negro across the State line before the writ is served Rogers will be brought to Durham. If not then the officer may be in Brockton and Boston for some time, and he will have to remain there and fight out the case in the courts. If Rogers it brought back to Durham he will be committed to jail, unless the necessary bond is given, and will be given a trial at the December term of court.

—— The Catholics of Durham are to have a new church some time in the near future. It is said that work on the new church will begin some time before the end of the present year.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— If Gen. Miles is able to distinguish the difference between an olive branch and a stuffed club, he may get back to a desirable place on the administration reservation.—Washington Post, Ind.

—— After reading Roosevelt's speech at Providence, says the Buffalo Enquiser, one wonders how Wall streets can feel that there is any danger to the trusts from the President. He says plainly that most of the trusts are all right, the present laws against them are being enforced and it will require a constitutional amendment to do more with them. What more does Wall street want?—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

—— By way of ending the anthracite strike it has been suggested that the Legislature of Pennsylvania may provide for taking over the coal mines under the right of eminent domain. But the notion of turning over the mines to such a set of buccaneers as dominate the politics of Pennsylvania is not at all pleasing to anybody concerned, unless to the buccaneers themselves.—Louisville Courier Journal, Dem.

—— It is worthy of the notice of thoughtful Americans that individuals in various spheres of life are being appealed to from day to day by many newspapers to do things that used to be deemed essentially public duties. Why should a bishop or a cardinal or any other eminent person in the church of any denomination be invited to settle questions that are of concern to the American people in the field of politics? Is it possible that the American is losing his power to manage his own affairs, and is sinking more and more into the position of a person who needs a benign protector?—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

Andrew Lang's Dog Ghost.

Andrew Lang in all of his ghost hunting appears to have found but one animal spook. The circumstances were these: A lieutenant of one of the British gunboats was visiting a friend in the country. Around a smoking room fire sat several men and a fox terrier. The heavy, shambling footsteps of an old dog and the jingling of his collar were heard coming up stairs. "Here's old Peter," said the lieutenant. "Old Peter's dead," said the host. The same sounds were heard to enter the room through the closed door. The invisible dog shook itself upon the hearth rug, jingled its collar vigorously and lay down before the fire, as had been old Peter's custom. The fox terrier bristled, growled and followed the sounds of the specter across the carpet.

Boy's Thrilling Ride

Swept Hundreds Of Feet Through Fourteen Inch Pipe

Through a brimming fourteen inch irrigation pipe little Johnnie McAlanan of Monrovia, Cal., was swept underground 500 feet a short time ago and was hurled out at the end sound as a dollar.

Johnnie's ride and his escape were far more miraculous than the ride of the New York plumber's helper who was recently swept half a mile through a flush sewer into the East river. He was carried on a current that flew like a mountain sluice after a freshet and thrown violently into a ditch into which the pipe emptied after his exciting ride through the choking channel buried several feet under ground.

The little chap, who is only thirteen months old, tumbled into the pipe by accident and instantly was swept into the roaring stream that poured through the small opening.

It was his investigative turn of mind that led Johnnie into his lively adventure. He is the son of a well to do citizen of Monrovia and one of the brightest little chaps in the vicinity. His precocity has been the wonder of the neighbors.

A twenty-two inch standpipe which was located within the range of Johnnie's playground attracted his curiosity. He concluded he would make an investigation into its mysteries. He could hear the water roaring down below and could catch sight of its dancing surface in the dark recess, but the rest he could not make out. He spent much of his time in trying to solve the mystery. He wanted to see where the water went and what else there was down there in the strange place.

He leaned far over the edge of the standpipe, staring down into the black abyss. The standpipe connected with the fourteen inch irrigating pipe, which was running full of water.

"Look out, Johnnie, you'll fall," cried Johnnie's twelve-year-old lame brother, who was near by, watching. It was his special province to keep Johnnie out of mischief and danger. Johnnie was too intent on his investigation to pay any attention.

He climbed up on top of the standpipe, put his feet over and peered down.

Splash! Johnnie's little body shot out of sight down the standpipe and disappeared. Instantly it was caught by the swirling current and forced into the narrow orifice, the water carrying him with a rush through the pipe.

The little lame brother saw the boy fall. With a cry he jumped to his feet. He remembered in his excitement that the pipe emptied into a ditch about 450 or 550 feet away. There he ran as fast as his crippled legs would take him, expecting to see his little brother spouted out into the deeper water of the ditch.

Out of breath and panting he reached the side of the ditch. Water was roaring from the irrigation pipe, and from its volume the lame boy could see that the pipe was choked full. He stood gazing breathlessly at the water as it roared foaming from the pipe, his heart sinking within him as he saw how hopeless it was that his little brother could ever come through that narrow pipe filled with water alive.

Suddenly out from the white whirlpool made by the emptying water shot the figure of little Johnnie. Into the ditch, without a thought of himself, sprang the little lame boy. He half plunged, half swam through the water to little Johnnie's side, and, grabbing hold of him by the arm, he fought his way to the bank.

By heroic effort the lame boy, weak and fragile as he was, lifted the boy out of the water and somehow got him safely on the bank. He thought Johnnie was dead. He was limp as a rag and unconscious. He took the dripping form in his arms and started staggering toward the McAlanan cottage.

A workingman saw the lame boy staggering along and stopped him. In a few breathless sentences he told the man what had happened. It was to this chance meeting that the little boy Johnnie owes his life. The workingman had had experience with drowning persons, and he took the boy from his brother's arms.

Little Johnnie was placed on the ground, and the man began to roll him vigorously over and over. For half an hour this was kept up, the man stopping every few moments to shake little Johnnie violently.

After half an hour of it the little body showed signs of returning animation, and the boy began to revive. Natural respiration was quickly restored, and after a few minutes the child opened his eyes. He was perfectly composed and not at all concerned over his violent ride through the narrow pipe. He had not even a bump to show for his exciting adventure.

The little fellow was taken home none the worse for his experience and very cheerful. He seemed to be more interested in getting something to eat than in bothering about his case.

Desperate Fight With Mutineers

Captain Robert K. Clarke of Portchester, N. Y., recently related an experience he had with Malay mutineers. It happened on the ship Frank N. Thayer, 1,700 tons, bound from Manila to New York, loaded with hemp. "Just before we sailed I shipped two Malays," says Captain Clarke. "There was no sign of dissatisfaction until we were 600 miles out at sea. One night shortly after 10 o'clock I heard the second mate give a shriek of agony and the cry of 'Captain Clarke, Captain Clarke!'

"Then all was still. I started up the companionway, when I saw one of the new Malay sailors with a big butcher knife in each hand. With a yell, he struck me three times on the head, opening up three gaping wounds. This he followed up by ripping my nose and slashing me in the throat at the same time.

"Blindly I fought with my fists, and the more I struck at him the harder he carved at me. He cut open my stomach. It was a desperate hand to hand fight, with fists against sharp steel blades.

"I kept backing down stairs until I slipped in my own blood and managed to strike the mutineer in the eyes so he was stunned. Then I managed to close the stateroom door and crawled to where my wife was. She got my revolver, and while I fired at the Malay she bound up my wounds. Then the mutineer latched my cabin door and went to the window and tried to spear me.

"I fought desperately, shooting as fast as my wife loaded my pistols. Standing on a table, I shot through the skylight and killed the leader of the mutineers.

"The other fellow in the interim had set fire to the hemp. I sent a shot into his shoulder, and he jumped overboard.

"All this time the ship was burning, and, although wounded, I helped lower the lifeboat and assist in my wife, child and the wounded men aboard."

A Sure Sign.

A physician driving past a place where stonemasons were at work on some monuments called out:

"Hard at work, I see. You finish your gravestones as far as 'In memory' and then you wait, I suppose, to see who wants a monument next."

"Why, yes," was the answer, "unless somebody is ill and you are treating him, and then I know just how to go on."

Heat From Cold Water.

Heat from cold water seems fabulous, but it is an established fact. The water is decomposed by electricity into its constituent gases, hydrogen and oxygen. When these gases are reunited, the act of combination causes the evolution of intense heat. The well known limelight is an example of this.

Sparing His Feelings.

Minna—Certainly not, Hettie. It would be cruel to give him a thing that would be a constant reminder of the happiness he had missed.—Boston Transcript.

"I was troubled for several years with Chronic Indigestion and Nervous Debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. How About That Tackle?

The blue birds are with us again. The streams and ponds are warming up. The fishermen should be looking up their outfits. Seeing if anything is wanted before the last minute.

As of old we are showing the finest things to tempt the fish kingdom and make the sport more sporty for the anglers.

Lines may be wanted; poles must be needed; hooks are very necessary, and in fact we have everything that is required to make a complete outfit.

To those that are interested in the sport, to those others that may not be so enthusiastic, we would consider it a favor to have all come in and look.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 2.

TWO HUNDRED PERSONS LOST THEIR LIVES.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

CASTRIES, ISLAND OF ST. LUCIA, B. W. I., Sept. 1.—The British steamer Korona arrived here yesterday evening from Fort de France, Island of Martinique. She reports that a terrible eruption of Mont Pelee occurred at 9 o'clock Saturday night, and that people who arrived at Fort de France from the northern part of the island reported that the village of Morne Rouge, near the district previously devasted, had been entirely destroyed, and that LaCarbet, a village on the coast which was destroyed at the time of the great eruption, had been swept by a tidal wave. About two hundred persons lost their lives.

A sloop from the Island of St. Vincent which reached here this morning reports that Mont Pelee's crater is now quiet, but that the detonations during Saturday were the loudest heard up to that time and that the inhabitants were terribly alarmed.

BASSE TERRE, ISLAND OF GAUDALOUPE, Aug. 31.—The French trans-Atlantic coast steamer Salvador, which has just arrived at Point-a-Pitre, reports that she left for Fort de France, Island of Martinique, yesterday, and passed Mont Pelee at 7 o'clock the same evening. The volcano was then in violent eruption. On approaching the Islands of Les Saintes (small islands off the south extremity of Guadaloupe) ashes were falling on the vessel. She arrived off Point-a-Pitre at 5 o'clock, but was unable to enter that port until 11 at night, owing to the obscurity.

CASTRIES, ISLAND of ST. LUCIA, September 1.—Mont Pelee has been in constant eruption since August 15th. There was an enormous fall of ashes from the volcano the night of the 25th. There was a very severe eruption the night of the 28th, when the volcanic rumblings were heard at a great distance. The mountain burned fiercely that night and out at sea passing vessels were covered with ashes. The night of the 30th there were three separate eruptions.

It is impossible to approach the ruined town of St. Pierre from the sea. The people of the village of LaCarbet, on the coast, are terror stricken and flying to the interior. Hot water is pouring down on Basse Pointe villages to the northeast of the crater. Horrible detonations were heard, the ground rocked and quaked and articles on the table were thrown to the floor.

The governor of Martinique has ordered every available boat to remove people from the coast villages to Fort de France.

At 8 o'clock in the evening of Saturday, the sky was cloudless. Suddenly and without warning, one half of the horizon was obscured by a pitch black cloud of dust. This cloud was the centre of the most vivid electric effects, the flashes of light surpassing the most elaborate fireworks. Flames and flashes continued to burst from the cloud until nearly midnight. Columns of flame shot out of the crater of Mont Pelee to explode about the cloud in showers of balls of golden fire which fell through the darkness in myriads of sparks. Three large aureoles were seen in the sky over the opening of the crater.

A tidal wave rushed up Fort de France and the terrified inhabitants fled in large numbers to the interior. The wave was not severe and did but slight damage.

At midnight of the 30th, Mont Pelee was quiet; shortly after this hour there came another shower of ashes, accompanied by vivid sheet lightning. In addition to the two hundred persons reported to have lost their lives at LaCarbet and Morne Rouge, many other persons are said to have been killed all over the northern districts of the island. The governor of Martinique is believed to have started for the scene of destruction.

TERRIBLE WRECK ON THE SOUTHERN

Caused Instant Death of Twenty-one and Injured Eighty-one Other Persons.

NEARLY ALL WERE NEGROES.

Four Coaches of an Excursion Train Thrown Down an Embankment Near Berry, Ala.—Twenty-nine of the Injured Cannot Live

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The officials of the Southern Railway in this city to-day received a telegram advising them of a wreck at 9:20 this morning on the Southern road at Berry, Ala., about 65 miles west of Birmingham. The train master, H. N. Dudley, and about 25 colored passengers were killed. The engineer and fireman were badly scalded and about 25 passengers injured. The engine was derailed and six coaches overturned. The cause of the derailment is not known here.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Aug. 1.—While rounding a curve on a high embankment, near Berry, Ala., at 9:30 o'clock this morning, the engine and four cars of an excursion train on the Southern Railway leaped from the track and rolled over and over down the incline, smashing the coaches into kindling wood and causing the instant death of twenty-one persons and the injury of eighty-one others. Physicians say that at least twenty-nine of the injured cannot live.

With the exception of H. M. Dudley, train master of the Southern Railway, living at Birmingham, and Roscoe Sheley, of Columbus, Miss., all of the dead and injured are negroes who had taken advantage of excursion rates from points in Mississippi to Birmingham.

Twenty-nine excursionists are thought to be fatally injured and fifty-two other negroes sustained injuries of a more or less serious nature.

When the wreck occurred the train was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour and had just started around a curve on top of a sixty foot embankment. Without warning the tender of the engine suddenly left the track, jerking the engine and the first four cars with it. There were ten cars in the excursion train, but the fourth broke loose from the fifth and with the heavy engine plunged down the steep incline. The cars which were packed with the passengers turned completely over several times and were crushed like egg-shells, killing and crippling the inmates.

Persons who have returned from the scene of the wreck say it is indescribable. The dead bodies of the negroes were scattered in every direction and the moans and appeals for help from the wounded were heart-rending.

As soon as the accident was reported to the officials of the road, wrecking trains carrying physicians were hurried from Columbus, Miss., and Birmingham, and every thing possible is is being done to alleviate the sufferings of the injured. The dead bodies have been prepared for burial.

LABOR DAY OBSERVANCES.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor to-day reviewed an immense parade of organized labor. It was the first celebration under the law making the first Monday in September Labor Day. Banks, exchanges, public buildings and many business houses closed. Mr. Gompers delivered an oration at the big pic nic given by the central labor and trades councils.

In Alabama and Tennessee;

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Sept. 1.—Labor Day was generally observed in Birmingham and throughout the State. Business was suspended at noon.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Sept. 1—Labor Day was appropriately celebrated here to-day by the Central Labor Union of East Tennessee. This morning a big parade occurred in which labor unions and merchants and manufacturers participated.

CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 1.—Labor Day was generally celebrated here.

At Richmond, Va.

RICHMOND, VA., Sept. 1.—Labor Day was not as generally observed here to-day as formerly, and many of the places of business that were closed last year were open to-day. The trades unionists generally observed the day. About seven hundred of them and their friends went to West Point to spend the day. The majority of the laboring men remained in the city, evidently preferring either to spend the day quietly at home or else take in some one or more of the local attractions.

In Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 1.—Labor Day was more generally observed throughout the State to-day than in previous years, Governor Beckham having declared it a legal holiday for the first time. The feature of the day in this city was a big parade in the afternoon participated in by nearly every labor organization in Louisville. A big mass meeting and picnic was scheduled at Phœnix Hill Park at night. Business was almost at a standstill.

Negroes Participate.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 1.—The feature of to-day's Labor parade was the participation of colored organizations for the first time. The latter were separated from the whites by a number of floats.

LYNCHING IN GEORGIA.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MONTICELLO, GA., Aug. 31.—John Brown, a negro, who attempted to criminally assault Johnie Choffin, a 12-year-old white girl, near Monticello, yesterday, was lynched early this morning by a small posse of men seven miles north of this place.

Illinois Lynching Farty.

SPARTA, ILL., Aug. 31.—The negro who escaped from the lynching party here last night is alive, despite rumors that he had been riddled with bullets. As the lynching party brought him forth on a run to the electric light pole, his hands were loose. He threw off the noose, and got away before those holding the rope realized what had happened. The lynching party fired a volley, one of the shots striking an on-looker in the arm. Wilson staggered and fell but ran into a yard, making his escape. He was captured to-day and lodged in the Chester jail. His condition is critical.

ON THE SUBJECT OF THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

RUTLAND, VT., Sept. 1.—President Roosevelt, after a stay of thirty-six hours on the shores of Lake Champlain as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury N. N. Shaw and of Dr. Seward Webb, resumed his tour of New England to day.

A half hour's stop was made at Proctor, the home of Senator Proctor. The President delivered an address from the steps of the Senator's porch and in the course of it made some significant utterances on the subject of the Monroe Doctrine. The President said:

"We believe in the Monroe Doctrine, not as a means of aggression at all. It does not mean that we are aggressive toward any power. It means merely that as the biggest power on this continent we remain steadfastly true to the principles formulated under the Presidency of Monroe, through John Quincy Adams—the principle that this continent must not be treated as a subject for political colonization by any European power. As, I say, that is not an aggressive doctrine. It is a doctrine of peace. A doctrine of defence, a doctrine to secure the chance on this continent for the United States here to develop peaceably along their own lines. Now, we have formulated that doctrine. If our formulation consists simply of statements on the stump or on paper, they are not worth the breath that utters them or the paper on which they are written. Remember, that the Monroe Doctrine wil be respected as long as we have a first class efficient navy and not very much longer.

"In private life, he who asserts something, says what he is going to do and does not back it up, is always a contemptible creature, and as a nation the last thing we can afford to do is to take a position which we do not intend to try to make good. Bragging and boasting in private life are almost always the signs of a weak man, and a nation that is strong does not need to have its public men boast or brag on its account. Least of all does a self-respecting nation wish its representatives to threaten or menace or insult another power. Our attitude toward all powers must be one of such dignified courtesy and respect as we intend that they shall show us in return. We must be willing to give the friendly regard that we exact from them. We must no more wrong them than we must submit to wrong doing by them; but when we take a position let us remember that our holding it depends upon ourselves, depends upon our showing that we have the ability to hold it."

After speaking of the part Vermont has played in the country's history through Admirals Dewey and Clark, the President continued:

"Shame to us if we assert the Monroe Doctrine and then, if our assertion shall be called in question, show that we have only made an idle boast—that we are not prepared to back up our words by deeds." [Loud applause.]

THE COTTON CROP OF 1901-2.

Hester's Annual Report—Total Amount for United States 10,680,680 Bales. Mill Takings and Exports.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, September 1.—The totals of Secretary Hester's annual report of the cotton crop of the United States, promulgated to-day, show receipts of cotton at all United States ports for the year to have been 7,679,290 bales, against 7,666,452 last year; overland to Northern mills and Canada, 1,103,953 bales, against 1,140,237; Southern consumption, taken direct from the interior of the cotton belt, 1,897,437 bales, against 1,576,733; making the cotton crop of the United States for 1901-02 amount to 10,680,680 bales, against 10,383,422 last year.

Reports from every mill consuming cotton in the cotton growing States, including woollen mills that have used cotton, show a total of 1,937,971 bales; of this 40,534 were taken from ports and included in port receipts.

To-day being a legal holiday the exchange was closed and only the leading totals of the crop could be given out. The full report will be issued to morrow, showing the consumption of the South by States, the crop by States, and the continued increase in spindles of the Southern mills; also, data in relation to new mills now building, some of which will come into operation during the new commercial year.

The year's exports and takings by Northern mills are as follows:

Exports to Great Britain 3,086,283 bales against 3,063,828 last year; France 745,969 against 729,018; Continental European ports, 2,858,608 against 2,745,917. To British North America 112,361 against 102,523.

The total exports foreign, including British North America, amount to 6,763,071 bales against 6,641,281 last year; an increase of 121,790.

Northern mills took during the year 2,050,774 bales against 1,977,570 bales.

THE TURKISH GOVERNMENT.

Denial of Report That It Refused to Discuss Responsibility for the Capture by Brigands of Miss Stone.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 31.—The report circulated in the United States by a news agency that the Turkish government had addressed an abrupt note to United States Minister Leishman, saying that it absolutely refused to further discuss the responsibility for the capture by the brigands of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, and a companion, in September, 1901, as the outrage was not committed on Turkish territory, is not true. As a matter of fact, the question of the Porte's responsibility is indisputable, since the capture, payment of the ransom and liberation of the captives all occurred in Turkish territory. The correspondence on the subject of measures taken for the discovery and arrest of the brigands continues, and the insufficiency of efforts displayed by the Turkish authorities has been the subject of complaint by the United States legation. The Porte is following its usual course of trying by every means to evade the demands of the legation for the capture and punishment of the guilty persons, alleging among other reasons that the captives when released did not furnish sufficient information to enable the authorities to find the brigands.

The Seaboard Air Line railway has just given an order to the Baldwin Locomotive Works for 31 new locomotives. This order includes 22 heavy consolidated engines.

MIMIC WARFARE ON THE COAST.

BLOCK ISLAND CAPTURED.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., Sept. 1.—The Beacon Hill signal and wireless telegraph station, established by the army in connection with the extensive war manœuvres, was captured by the fleet representing the enemy, under the command of Rear Admiral Higginson, just after 6 o'clock this morning. The station was abandoned after a bombardment of two hours and a quarter by the battleships, and the guard escaped before a superior force of marines which had landed under cover of the fire from the vessels at Great Salt Pond harbor. Eight hundred marines are now holding the station and guarding the approach while the fleet is anchored off shore.

It was scarcely midnight when the patrol of the Block Island Life Saving station discovered the fleet off the eastern side of the island. The signal station at once was warned and the men considered an attack imminent. They had four hours leeway. At 4.15 the battleships ran in and opened fire on the island. The range raked the Great Salt Pond and the Beacon Hill station. The reverberation shook the island to its base. The firing was continued until 6.30, when a collier and dispatch boat entered the harbor and landed a force of men. Before the attack of this detachment the station having been reduced by the previous bombardment the men made their escape. The landing force of eight hundred was divided and squads were stationed on each side of the breakwater and at other points along the shore, while an ample force was sent to occupy the Beacon Hill signal station. As the fleet lay off shore seventeen vessels could be counted, including colliers.

Communication Severed.

WOODSHOLE, MASS., Sept. 1.—The United States cruiser Olympia dashed into this port this forenoon, landed a force and seized all telegraph, telephone and cable stations, thereby cutting off all communications with Martha's Vineyard and Elizabeth Island.

Of course the seizure and the destruction of telegraphic and cable facilities were figurative, and it required the decision of an umpire to make plain whether or not the point attempted by Admiral Higginson had been won. As the landing was made, the telegraph and 'phone offices were entered by sufficient force to have destroyed the property, or at least the instruments and at the same time a boat's crew had located the cables with grappling hooks and had held them a sufficient period to have allowed for the cutting of them, there seemed to have been no question that the move had been entirely successful.

The Olympia appeared off this port suddenly early this morning and immediately two boats put off toward shore. One was a launch and the other a whaleboat, and in them was a detachment under Lieutenant L. M. Everhardt. The launch landed here, while the whaleboat lay off shore and at once began grappling for the cable. The men under Lieutenant Everhardt rushed to the office of the Martha's Vineyard telegraph company and then to the Telephone station and carried out their orders to make the seizure. Having accomplished this work they returned to their launch, joined the whaleboat and returned to their ship.

This move cut off the only communication with the islands of Nantucket and Marthas Vineyard which are very important observation stations.

VINEYARD, MASS., Sept. 1.—The United States cruiser Olympia has landed a detachment of men at Gayhead and the cable from that point to Pasque Island has been cut in connection with the war manœuvres.

Mayflower Blown Up.

FISHER'S ISLAND, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Fort Wright at 10:20 o'clock to-night exchanged shots with a battleship of the Indiana type as she passed Fort Wright, going toward Fort Terry on the Long Island side. Afterward the guns of Fort Terry were heard apparently trained on the battleship. A message was received a short time ago from the signal station at Fort Mansfield announcing that the whole fleet was coming this way. An officer in the fort is authority for the statement that the Mayflower was blown up, theoretically, by a submarine mine, while attempting to force an entrance at Fort Gut.

LYNCHING IN FLORIDA.

Two Negroes Charged With Murder Hanged by a Mob Near Newbury.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEWBURY, FLA., Sept. 1.—Manny Price, the murderer of W. F. Brunson, and another negro named Bob Scruggs, were lynched about two miles from this place this afternoon by a party of about 300 men. The negroes were being taken from Newbury to Gainesville by special deputies and the party overpowered them and took the prisoners away. They were given a chance to confess, which they did, and were then strung up on a tree and their bodies riddled with bullets.

AT A NEGRO FESTIVAL.

One Man Killed and Two Men Wounded. One Fatally.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Sept. 1.—At a negro festival near Pembroke, Jerry and Dangerfield Ware, infuriated because Manager Frank Massie tried to eject them from the grounds, emptied their pistols into a crowd of dancers. Massie was probably fatally wounded. John Tandy was shot six times and instantly killed and James Williams' jaw was shot off. No arrests have been made.

MANY LIVES LOST.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 1.—Eighteen vessels, mostly sailing craft, have been driven ashore in a gale at Port Elizabeth. Five of them were dashed to pieces and all the members of their crews were lost. Two tugs are also reported to have foundered and a score of lighters are ashore. It is feared that there has been great loss of life.

POLICEMEN BATTLE WITH A DESPERADO.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Twenty policemen armed with Winchesters are standing guard to-night about a house at North Beach in the Borough of Queens, in which a negro desperado lies in hiding, armed and defiant. The man who is besieged is Jerry Hunter, whose reputation is of the worst. About the house are the reserves of the 74th, 75th and 76th precincts.

This afternoon Hunter shot at a man who was passing along the beach, but failed to hit him. John McKinns, a patrolman, was sent to arrest Hunter, and Hunter shot him from ambush. McKinns now is lying in St. John's hospital in Long Island city, dying.

Both his eyes are destroyed by a load of buckshot. Three other patrolmen were sent to effect Hunter's capture and in an attempt to carry the house by storm Patrolman Arthur Brill received a load of buckshot in the face, destroying one eye. The charge struck him full in the face and chest. He, too, is likely to die.

The reserves then were ordered out but as it was growing dark, it was demed best to wait until daylight to capture the negro.

LATER—Soon after the police had posted the guard Hunter opened fire on them. Four officers were wounded.

After at least two hours of shooting on both sides Hunter set fire to the house or it caught fire. Hunter's wife ran out by the front door and attacked the men with an old sabre. In the excitement Hunter escaped by the rear, but he was run down and captured.

Police Captain Darcy and three of his men were taken to the hospital in an ambulance. It is not known how seriously they are wounded.

QUIET IN THE COAL REGION.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WIKESBARRE, Sept. 1.—An extra guard was placed at all of the collieries of the Kingston Coal Company, Edwardsville, to-day. The strikers have been in an angry mood since Saturday, because one of the guards at No. 4 mine is alleged to have made the remark that he hoped the mines would keep closed until the strikers became so hungry they would have to eat their children. William Williams, the superintendent of the mines, has promised the strikers that if it can be proven that such a remark was made he will discharge the guilty at once.

The authorities are investigating the fire which destroyed the barn of David Davis, at Edwardsville, last Saturday night. Davis is a Coal and Iron policeman and the striking miners it is alleged, made threats against him. It is now believed that the barn was set on fire. The fire communicated to an adjoining barn and both structures were destroyed.

TAMAQUA, PA., Sept. 1.—Quiet prevailed to-day in the Panther Creek valley. The non-union men employed at Breakers No. 4 and No. 12 of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company reported for work as usual. A platoon of Company A went by trolley cars from Manila Park to Summit Hill as a guard for the non-union men, while the Governor's Troop, Captain Ott, patrolled the valley. Their services were not required, however, as very few people were on the streets and no attention was paid to the workmen or soldiers.
